DEFINITION:

Reflexive pronouns are words like myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves and themselves. They refer back to a person or thing.

Reflexive pronouns are words ending in -self or -selves that are used when the subject and the object of a sentence are the same (e.g., I believe in myself). They can act as either objects or indirect objects. The nine English reflexive pronouns are myself, yourself, himself, herself, oneself, itself, ourselves, yourselves, and themselves. reflexive is related to reflect; this is useful to remember because a reflexive pronoun reflects back upon a sentence's subject.

examples

I fell over and hurt myself.

Be careful with that knife. You might cut yourself.

TYPES OF REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS

3. He wanted to impress her, so he prepared pizza himself.
4. Julia does chores herself because she doesn't trust others to do them right.
5. We don't have to go out; we can fix lunch ourselves.

MORAL STORY(improve reading skill and listening skill) Reflexive pronoun(underline)

Once upon a time in a circus, five elephants that performed circus tricks. They were eating bamboos themselves. They were kept tied up with weak rope that they could've easily escaped, but did not.

One day, a man visiting the circus asked the ringmaster: "Why haven't these elephants broken the rope and run away?" The ringmaster prepared tea for himself and the man. The ringmaster replied: "From when they were young, the elephants were made to believe that they were not strong enough to break the ropes and escape." It was because of this belief that they did not even try to break the ropes now.

Moral of the story

Don't give in to the limitations of society. Believe that you can achieve everything you want to!
