MORAL STORY (underline the pronoun)

one summer's day a Grasshopper was hopping about, chirping and singing to its heart's content. An Ant passed by, bearing along with great toil an eara of corn he was taking to the nest.

"Why not come and chat with me," said the Grasshopper, "instead of toiling and moiling in that way?"

"I am helping to lay up food for the winter," said the Ant, "and recommend you to do the same."

"Why bother about winter?" said the Grasshopper; "We have got plenty of food at present." But the Ant went on its way and continued its toil.

When the winter came the Grasshopper had no food and found itself dying of hunger - while it saw the ants distributing every day corn and grain from the stores they had collected in the summer. Then the Grasshopper knew: It is best to prepare for days of need.

Demonstrative Pronoun vs. Demonstrative Adjective

Are you wondering about the difference between demonstrative pronouns and demonstrative adjectives? Since some of the same demonstrative pronouns (this, that, these, those) can also be used as demonstrative adjectives, it can be challenging to tell the difference. The key lies with the sentence structure.

- A demonstrative pronoun takes the place of a noun phrase that has already been mentioned. (It always comes after the noun.)
- A demonstrative adjective modifies the noun and is always followed by the noun. (It always comes before the noun.)

To illustrate, review some demonstrative adjectives that modify underlined nouns:

- That food you're cooking smells delicious.
- Did you finally throw away that old t-shirt?
- This bendy yoga pose really hurts.
- Is this book yours or mine?
- What is that frightening creature?
- These pink cupcakes are my favorites.
- I told you those old magazines were a fire hazard.
